

Communion Servers

About Communion

Communion is on the first Sunday of the month and also special Sundays. We celebrate an open table; all are welcome, including children, visitors, and those of different faith traditions. Children may also serve communion. No limits are placed on God's grace. In order to be fully inclusive, we use all gluten-free bread and grape juice.

The How To's

- The Pastors will invite the servers down after they finish the blessing.
- While one of the pastors gives the congregation instructions, servers will go to the worship table to prepare.
- Servers will hand sanitize.
- Servers will take either the bread or juice to a serving station at the aisles.
- If serving the bread, you will hand a piece to the person. Say, “bread of life for you” or something similar (if you have something you like to say instead).
- If serving juice, say, “cup of salvation for you” or something similar (if you have something you like to say instead).
- Musicians are typically busy during the sacrament. The band is served first as instructions are being given to everyone. Those serving near the organist should wait by her until she is done playing.
- If you are the servers on the outside aisle near the projectionist, serve him/her and any other people you see who were unable to come forward after your line ends.
- Servers should then serve each other once they are done with others.
- Return the elements to the worship table and return to your seats.
