

Marathon County free food pantries.

When a family needs emergency food or a voucher, the best place to turn for help in Marathon County is a free food pantry near them. Both charities as well as non-profits focus on providing support to certain areas of the county. Find how and where to get free groceries, hot meals, and locate charities that give away food below. In addition, many sites have free baskets of goods to those in need for Thanksgiving, Christmas or even Easter. Also find a referral number at the bottom of the page for more resources.

Generally, a pantry or soup kitchen can only be used a few times per year. However, there may be exceptions made in an emergency. When the applicant is a senior citizen or disabled, then a distribution center may deliver the food or meal to the home of the individual or family in need. They will of course need to live by where the pantry is based in Marathon County.

Other support provided is wide ranging. People may be given hot meals from on-site soup kitchens, baby formula, diapers, or even clothing or toiletries if that is what they need. So various forms of assistance are arranged.
